

It is more important than ever that you not allow cross ownership of television, radio and newsprint media outlets. All one has to do is watch our media in action to witness the one-sided reporting on the war against terrorism. The decision makers at the FCC should channel surf sometime and see the unrelenting repetition of the same news, from the same sources. This I believe is a direct result of large scale corporate ownership of the media.

Please protect what democratic freedoms we have left and do not review or revise the cross ownership rules in a way which will benefit large corporate ownership, to the detriment of the public.

Thank you.
